This page contains a technical diagram and data related to a passenger lift through a side in a Masonry Building Work. The diagram includes dimensions and other technical specifications for the lift. The text on the page is too small to be read clearly, but it appears to be discussing the design and installation of the lift. The diagram shows various sections of the lift, including the cab and doors. The text mentions 'Working From Plan', indicating that the information is derived from a plan for the lift installation. The page also includes a table with numerical data, which is not transcribed in this text representation.
